NOTES.

1. There are no essential differences in arrangement between the present and preceding revisions.

2. In cases where batteries have been identified as composed of captured pieces, the origin of the latter is shown by the letters (B.), (F.) or (R.) (Belgian, French or Russian), placed in the column headed calibre.

3. Independent batteries and batteries of Ersatz and Landsturm battalions, which have been renumbered as batteries of newer formations, are still shown in the index under their old numbers as well, enclosed in square brackets.

4. Independent batteries and batteries of Landsturm and Ersatz battalions, which have not been identified since August, 1916, are shown in italics. It is probable that the majority of these have been converted into batteries of newer formations.

5. Owing to the proximity of Metz and Strassburg to the fighting line, these Fortresses are shown under the heading "Western Theatre—Fortresses" and not "Fortresses—Germany."

6. All corrections and additions should be sent to the Director of Military Intelligence, War Office.

Note.—The following is the normal allotment of pieces to a Foot Artillery battery :—

42-cm. howitzers and 38-cm. guns	1 to a battery.
24-cm. guns	1 or 2 "
21-cm. and 20·3-cm. howitzers	3 "
15-cm. guns	2 "
15-cm. howitzers	4 "
13-cm., 12-cm. and 10-cm. guns	4 "
9-cm. guns	8 "

It appears that the 9-cm. guns are gradually being replaced by pieces of higher calibre, principally 15-cm. howitzers and 10-cm. guns.

The average number of pieces in a German Foot Artillery battery may be taken as 3·6.

The calibre of the guns or howitzers, with which each battery is equipped, is given wherever known. It should be remembered, however, that a battery, which has lost all its guns or had them knocked out, is sometimes rearmed with guns of another calibre.

The following table shows the calibres of the heavy guns in commonest use converted into inches :—

42-cm.	= 16·54 inches.
38-cm.	= 14·96 "
24-cm.	= 9·45 "
21-cm.	= 8·3 "
20·3-cm.	= 7·99 "
15-cm.	= 5·89 "
13-cm.	= 5·31 "
12-cm.	= 4·73 "
10-cm.	= 4·13 "
9-cm.	= 3·46 "
